

A Hopeful Earth: Faith, Science, and the Message of Jesus
Sunday, January 29
1:30-5:30 pm
Klas Center, Hamline University

Is our environmental crisis also a spiritual crisis? You are invited to take a deeper look at this question with the authors of the book A Hopeful Earth, written by Minnesota United Methodist Bishop Sally Dyck and her niece and environmental science educator Sarah Ehrman. This very special afternoon will include worship, presentation, discussion, and an opportunity to develop a plan of action. Refreshments will be provided. Pre-register at www.hamline.edu/hopefulearth to receive detailed directions and an excerpt from the book. The event is free and open to all, sponsored by Hamline's Wesley Center and Minnesota Interfaith Power and Light.
